When a cyber incident occurs, the responsibility of complying with legislative requirements often falls on a broad spectrum of personnel including Incident Response teams, business stakeholders, and executives. After a breach occurs is not the time to begin understanding your legal requirements. With the average time to identify a breach at an all-time high, 206 days, and to contain it another 73 days the risk is great. Thinking about incident response now will allow you to lead effectively post breach reducing the impact to your business and customers.

CERTNEXUS®

✓ COURSE OVERVIEW

IRBIZ covers incident response methods and procedures which are taught in alignment with industry frameworks such as US-CERT's NCISP (National Cyber Incident Response Plan), and Presidential Policy Directive (PPD) 41 on Cyber Incident Coordination Policy. It is ideal for candidates who have been tasked with managing compliance with state legislation and other regulatory requirements regarding incident response, and for executing standardized responses to such incidents. The course introduces procedures and resources to comply with legislative requirements regarding incident response.
